

The Ink Drinkers Press

Welcome! Thank you for joining The Ink Drinkers Press,
The Wandering Library's official newsletter!

Subzero temperatures and mountains of snow had us hibernating, but we are ready for Spring! We hope you've stayed healthy and warm this Winter. It has definitely been a great one for cozying up with some good books. We certainly appreciated opportunities for rest, but now we're definitely looking forward to Spring!

As we prepare for the exciting season ahead, we hope to achieve our goal to spend more time with YOU — our beautiful community of book lovers and enthusiasts! We have some great events lined up so keep an eye out for our social media and website updates!

We are kicking off our 2026 season with another appearance at the CLES Art Show! We're bringing back our bookmark making supplies and this year we'll have tons of FREE children's books available!

Before we got snowed in, we were able to get most of our collection into our new headquarters and we cannot wait to get back to sorting and organizing!

Stay tuned - we will be offering a few dates, starting in April, for any interested volunteers to sign up!
